Old Business

1. Earth Day has been rescheduled for August 22, 2020. The advertising posters have been printed and are ready for distribution. The Beautification Commission will provide lunch for all the workers that day.
2. The planters and baskets downtown are holding up well in the heat. Some of the plants died and were removed by Public Works employees, but overall everything still looks okay. Mary Anna Davis has plans to groom and clean the planters, and some will need to be sprayed. Six of the hanging baskets downtown have been damaged, five have been replanted and are ready to rehang. The commission will ask Sarah Strain to order a few more baskets.
3. Mary Anna Davis, Adolph Hilliard, and Jason Woods recently visited the city parks. The city and the Parks Department have made a lot of improvements to the parks. The Beautification Commission would like to assist with landscaping and beautification projects. Mary Anna and Adolph prepared a list of possible projects for each park.
